

MARKET

special bath/spa section

edited by Rebecca Thienes

text by Mark McMenamin and Zoe Kaplan

PIERLUIGI PERCOCO, ALESSIA BETTAZZI

some like it hot

Parties. Fun. Happiness.

Smiles. Do those words have you thinking about... radiators? As unlikely as it seems, such was Bettazzi + Percoco Architetti partners Alessia Bettazzi and Pierluigi Percoco's train of thought in conceiving Cannuccia, a heating element for Brem. The name means straw, as in the bendy version.

Multifunctional as a towel bar or a clothes hanger, the epoxy-coated steel tube comes in three lengths, 63, 69, and 75 inches, and can fasten together or stand alone. White is standard, with a choice of 80 specialty colors to tempt the palette. Adaptable for electric or steam heat. bremradiators.com ➔

CANNUCCIA